PRESS RELEASE

ALIMENT LAB Laboratories, with a long history in quality control and consulting for food and cosmetic products, is proceeding to a strategic partnership with QACS Laboratories, a leading provider of laboratory and regulatory services for consumer products such as foodstuffs, cosmetics, medicines, medical devices and biocides.

This partnership marks the joining of forces of two specialized entities, with common values and complementary know-how, with the aim of providing even more comprehensive and quality services to businesses in Northern Greece and beyond.

ALIMENT LAB Laboratories, accredited according to ISO 17025 by ESYD, have a suitably structured organization, ensuring quality, reliability, confidentiality and consistency in all areas of cooperation.

Through the collaboration with QACS, which has extensive experience and advanced infrastructure, ALIMENT LAB Laboratories expands the range of its services, strengthens its position in the market and provides access to an expanded network of specialized solutions, covering modern quality and compliance needs.

This partnership creates new prospects for companies active in production, processing and marketing, offering a single, reliable source of support for quality control and regulatory compliance requirements.
